Mr. Ralph Newell of the Washburn law school and a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity will leave Topeka and has accepted a position in Des Moines, Iowa. He was the guest of honor at an informal dinner party given by some of the fraternity friends Friday night at the chapter house. Covers were placed for: Mr. Newell, Mr. Herbert Heyn of Denver, Colo., Mr. David Newlander, Mr. Fred Beerbohm, Mr. Don Welty, Mr. Henry Sullivan, Mr. Clyde Parrish, Mr. Tracey Leedom, Mr. Donald Heath, Mr. Raymond Benton, Mr. Robert Hasty, Mr. Frank Ripley, Mr. Arthur Champney, Mr. Harry Champney, Mr. Major Glick, Mr. John Parkinson, Mr. Arch Jarrell and Mr. James Lowe.

Mrs. C. L. Martin will entertain the Topeka Avenue club Friday at the Topeka club.

The Monday Bridge club will meet Monday afternoon at the Topeka club with Mrs. Harry Guthrie, 1525 Harrison street.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lagerstrom, who celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary Friday, were guests of honor at a surprise party given them by some of their friends in the evening. The company included: Mr. and Mrs. Lagerstrom, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Guthrie, Mr. and Mrs. E. Parks, Mr. and Mrs. D. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Will Dickie, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Purdy, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lagerstrom, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scott.

Darald Hartley, a K. U. student, has written some lines on the exciting whirl of everyday life. They fit the serene state of the social life in our own village, during the season here this week. An examination of next week's calendar shows a Whist club meeting and an art lecture. Here in the way our townsmen will live for a few weeks hence.

See the movies—feel or two (Nothing else that you can do). Push the bricks a while, and then Push the same bricks back again. Go into a "fix-tiz" store. (Been there just an hour before). Hear that "new one" on the Ford; Yawn somewhat, but don't seem bored.

Meander home to your two-by-four. Same old key in the same old door. Read the paper; find out if there's any news in the "Weekly Lift." Doff your duds and squelch the gim. Bed is welcome—head's a swim—For such a fast-gait life as this—Would make an iron man's engine miss.

Mr. John Parkinson, Mr. Glen Husey and Mr. Arch Jarrell, will be initiated tonight into the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Miss Marguerite Koonitz gave a second class party this afternoon, and today the dance was for the boys and girls. The party was a masquerade, and the children came in fancy costume. Balloon horns were blown, and streamers were thrown over the wires stretched above the heads of the children, forming a sort of bower which they danced.

The party began with a grand march and fancy figure dance. Hall's orchestra furnished the music, and punch was served during the hour of the party.

The little people who are members of the class and their guests were: Marian Reid, Norma Kline, Louise Reed, Octavia Merrick, Katherine Mullen, Edna Peppmyer, Katherine Cole, Millicent Dillon, Katherine Ray, Louise Doling, Lorraine Hrelford, Lorraine Floersche, Baby Gault, Helen Bunker, Virginia Scholle, Florence McKee, Jean Koonitz, Margaret Haden, Mary Elizabeth Wikidall, Virginia Mills, Marguerite Nellis, Isabel Smith, Louise Smith, Addison Pelletier, Eleanor Campbell, John Dillon, Ralph Dillon, Frederick Watson, Clark Dilly, James Bowman, Joe Anderson, William Anderson, Henry Alden, Tommy Alden, Percy Harvey, Henry Babbs, Bennett Bubbs, Jack Barnes, Harold Barnes, DeForest Joslin, Malcolm Work, Robert Merrick, Garrett Foster, William Davis, Jack Frost, Bobby Haig, Joe Switzer, Joe Gadin, Harold Snyder, Dan Perkins and Legler Paxton.

The Kappa Sigma men of Washburn college gave their annual spring formal at Kellam hall Friday night. The party was the second of their large dances for the season. The date of the spring formal is on the anniversary of the founding of the Gamma Nu chapter of Kappa Sigma. Potted tulips and jonquils decorated the windows of the hall. In the center of the room was a tier of palms and ferns. In the corners of the ball room were rustic seats covered with emerald canopies. The favors were silver kerchief folders engraved with the Kappa Sigma crest. The programs were made up of songs, recitations and dances. The first dance was the "The March to Calvary." A supper was served in the dining room, where the tables were decorated with spring flowers.

The chapters were: Mr. and Mrs. Monte Kistler, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. McIntosh and Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Miller.

The guests included a number of out of town people, and some of the alumni. The guests and their hosts were: Miss Winifred Neptune, of Clay Center, Kan.; Miss Marcia Field, of Kansas City, Mo.; Miss Lila Atkinson, of Lawrence; Miss Rose Haworth, Because this is "baby week" all over the country, the American mind, and particularly the feminine portion of it, has been occupied with the nation's babies and plans to make those babies healthier and happier than any babies have ever been before. Among the fashionable families of Topeka there are a good number of young children, and just a few of them have been chosen for the accompanying group representing the new Herald of Promise that the "better baby" enthusiasts remind us are the potential governors, citizens, teachers and leaders of the future.

The first of the group is Kenneth Price Dillon, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dillon. He recovered from an illness during his early childhood and is now a beautiful child, healthy and smiling. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Price Dillon, and the great grandson of the late Judge John Forrest Dillon, who was a wealthy and eminent jurist, at one time professor of equity jurisprudence in Columbia university, a justice in the Iowa supreme court, a corporation lawyer and the author of some books on law and a biography of Chief Justice Marshall. The baby experts all tell us that hereditary counts heavily, and if that's true, young Kenneth has a good start.

Edwin Gordon Kistler, the second in the group, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Kistler of Polk street, and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Kistler, also of Topeka, an old and prominent family of the city. Her parents, a sturdy, robust baby who has slept out of doors every day and every night of his life thus far. His mother is a pretty young woman, who came to Topeka as a bride from Wichita. The child was eight months old when the picture was taken.

Diana Campbell, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Campbell, is a granddaughter of Justice and Mrs. Silas Porter and of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Campbell. Her parents are popular in the set of young married people, and with her heritage and the good looks she starts out with, little Diana ought to be a heart-breaker, or perhaps an expert heart-mender, some day.

Ruth Elaine Worley, the daughter of afternoon at Kellam hall. Toy balloons were given as favors, and a carnival of confetti throwing followed the dancing. The mothers of some of the young people drove to the hall and watched the party.

The girls wore their masque costumes with some display of pride, but the boys who came arrayed in carnival costumes, "disappeared into the dressing rooms before the dancing began, removed their masques and divested themselves of the fancy dress costumes, under which they wore their Sunday clothes. A few of them remained in masquerade costume.

One of the pretty dresses was worn by Marian Moore. She represented the rose maiden. Her dress was of rose colored silk, and her hat a cream Panama wreathed with roses. She carried a long handled basket filled with flowers. Barbara Jarrell wore a cream colored figured silk made with big, puff sleeves and wide, draped skirt and she wore her hair in curls. Margaret Hill was dressed in black and white tulle. Doris Thompson wore pink tulle, made with deep pleats. Her shoes and stockings were pink. Jane Bone was dressed in Turkish costume, with yellow bloomers and overskirt, and a veil. Corinne Smith was dressed in white pleated tulle with white shoes and stockings. Frances Dolan wore green spangled tulle. Sarah Hazel Slaughter wore an apron and subonnet costume. Marguerite Stowari was in a dress of rainbow tulle. Warren Crosby wore a riding costume with a silk hat. Alfred Mitchell was the Charley Chaplin of the afternoon.

The children who danced were: Betty Bonebrake, Belle Burton, Vreda Burch, Orpha Baughman, Isabelle Crawford, Frances Dolan, Jessie Elliott, Grace Gled, Dorothy Hetherington, Margaret Hill, Frances Hammett, Barbara Jarrell, Marian Moore, Ruth March, Mary Officer, Elizabeth Purdy, Dorothy Pettit, Teima Perry, Mary Rodgers, Ralph Rahn, Dolly Slaughter, Elizabeth Schick, Marguerite Stewart, Ruth Switzer, Jane Bone, Katherine Smith, Gladys Scott, Doris Thompson, Mary Gasker, Nellie Thompson, Juliet Hughes, Charles Barnes, Flavia Burkett, Harry Brewer, Chester Bunker, George Veale, Charles Curry, Hamilton Chase, Warren Crosby, Raymond Coolidge, Warren Coolidge, Torrence Curry, Maurice Dean, Robert Emberton, Leo Uni, Philip Sable, Maurice Friedberg, George Greenwood, Abraham Hammatt, Ted Hussy, Bernard Kenney, Edward Kline, Alfred Mitchell, Jack Morrison, Edward Miller, Porter Major, William Miller, Edwin Neils, Warren Parr, Eugene Parker, Curtis Porter, Melvin Rahn, Charles Thompson, Lewis Taylor, Kenneth Ogelvie, Wellington Culver, Donald Talferro, Wilber Cole and Henry Mann.

Arrangements are being made for the annual meeting of the Kansas Good Citizenship league at which Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt will be a guest and speaker. The league is the Kansas Equal Suffrage association, and the association will resume its old name at the annual meeting. For the past few years it has been called the Good Citizenship league but not has been given that the name will be changed back to the Kansas Equal Suffrage association.

Mrs. Catt is not only the national, but the world leader in suffrage work. She is the best known and most prominent suffragist in the world. The meeting will be held April 13 in Menzies hall. The date is set for the following the state federation convention, and the club women of Kansas can attend both conventions with one trip to Topeka.

The Home Economics school, which has been conducted in Topeka under the auspices of the Good Government club, closed Friday evening. The school was taught by experts from the State Agricultural college, and was made as practical in all its departments as possible. So large has been the attendance at the sessions, that the club has decided to hold another school in Topeka next fall.

The closing meeting took up the side of taste in home making. Miss Arminia Holman gave two lectures on home decoration during the day, and Miss Marian Broughton talked on table service and preservation of foods. Miss Holman emphasized that the standard of taste in furnishing a room was measured by the appropriateness and unity. "It is just as bad taste for a woman to display on plate rails and such places all the cut glass and china she owns, as it would be for her to show off all her dresses. The colors in wall papers should be carefully selected. It would take a long time to take the attention from some wall paper I have seen."

Miss Margaret Van Zile spoke at the evening meeting. She said she thought the present day woman was foolishly complex and showy. This complicated housework, and makes a housekeeper nothing but a drudge. The destiny of the home is to keep the members of the family in such a state of health and body and mind that it will be possible for them to work at their best capacity for the greatest length of time, and to give to the community children fitted for citizenship. To do this the women must escape from their artificial burdens and emerge from the tyranny of fashion and display.

The W. T. K. club will be entertained Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. D. Noy, 1632 Fillmore street. The hostesses will be Mrs. R. C. Caldwell and Mrs. Noy.

By request of a number of the club women, and in honor of baby week, just closed, the following poem, which has been read on numerous occasions before meetings of club women, is printed:

The Mother.
Dear Lord, there is so much to do in one brief, busy day.
The little clothes to wash and iron and mend and put away.
The little bodies to be kept, for Thy little beds to make.
The little griefs to soothe away from little hearts that ache.
The little bodies to be kept, for Thy little hearts to keep.
A temple for the dwelling of the Christ spirit meet.
And Mary Mother, how time knew the blessedness of this:
The little feet to wash at night, the little lips to kiss.

Forgive me, Lord, if that I seem neglectful of Thy work.
It is not that my heart is hard; it is not that I shrink.
But that my heart and hands are full of these, my little ones—
My little daughters, fair and sweet, my sturdy little sons.
Once I rejoiced in serving Thee, and only Thee away.
And now sometimes I am so tired I cannot even pray.
But I draw near at night to Him whose mother knew the bliss
Of tender, little feet to wash and little lips to kiss.

—Ester H. Clark.
